PROTECTING OUR CHILDREN FROM CONCUSSIONS

Over the past couple of years I have successfully brought concussion education and training to school athletics. Now I am working to bring these protections to our youngest and most vulnerable children.

FIGHTING HARMFUL PRESCRIPTION DRUGS

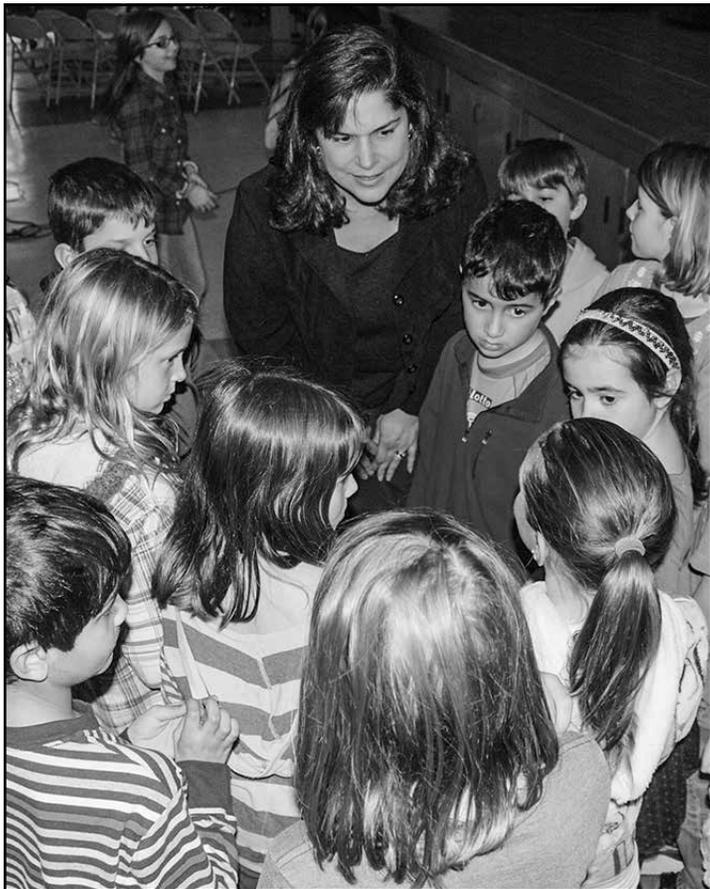

Too many families are experiencing the terrible consequences of opioid addiction, which often starts with prescription drugs. That's why I'm fighting for parental consent for opioid prescriptions for youth, to require doctors to explain the dangers of these drugs, and to reduce the supply of extra pills by decreasing the maximum prescription size.

CREATING AN ECONOMY FOR THE NEXT GENERATION

One of the most important things we can do for our children is to bolster our local economy so they can start a career and raise a family of their own here in Connecticut. The Senate's top priority this session is legislation that will provide support, capital, and equipment to job creators with promising business plans. The legislation would also help faculty and students at local universities promote their small and microbusiness concepts by providing them with patenting, licensing, and commercialization services. I am also working to increase opportunities for training in the skilled trades, IT, high-tech, and digital media at our vo-tech schools and community colleges.
